300 Parking Stalls To Get Meters by End of November

Because of the critical parking situation, three hundred parking stalls will be metered by the end of November. Construction in the upper parking lot, just east of the Student Center, began Tuesday, and is due to be completed by the end of October. Meters will be installed in the lower parking lot after a $26,000 paving job is completed.

These are to be the only paved parking areas at the University. Meters will not be installed in the faculty parking lot east of the Student Center, and the area will not be paved.

Metered parking stalls will cost five cents per hour, and will hold either six nickels or one quarter for six hours. The Dual Parking Meter Company of Hampton, O., is installing the meters at $102 each. Total cost of the 150 double-headed meters, to be placed between 300 stalls, will be $15,000.

Vice President Charles Hoff said the company would receive 50 per cent of the gross collected each month, and the other 50 per cent would go to maintenance.

Registration Breaks Record With 2,215 More Expected

1955 Alum Drive Exceeds $8,000

A total of $8,610 was collected in the annual Alumni Drive that ended Sept. 8, reported Jim Erixon, Alumni Secretary.

The Board of Directors of the Association approved the budget at a Sept. 8 meeting.

The Library Gift Fund now contains over $2,000, and the Jenkins Scholarship Fund has over $4,500. The Alumni Activities Fund received $983.33.

'Dust Bowl' Leaves Prints

Grit and dust from the University's building progress wrote their names on registration cards, right along with the students, at last week's registration in the Fieldhouse.

After a day in OU's "Dust Bowl" Miss Margaret Killian, head of the Home Economics Department returned home only to find 50 pamphlets awaiting her on "The Dangers of Dust and Dirt."

Results of the TB Testing Unit on campus last week will be returned with two weeks.

Over 800 Frosh Comprise Largest Class on Campus

The Municipal University of Omaha this year boasts the largest enrollment since its founding in 1909.

Miss Alice Smith and her staff have registered and processed 2,215 students so far this fall. Of these, 2,005 have paid their tuition and fees.

The school's total enrollment last year, which was the largest to date, was 1,912 after classes had been in session for a period of two weeks. This year's total is an increase of almost 16 per cent over that figure.

The largest freshman class ever to register at Omaha University is also entering its halls this fall. The freshman enrollment is estimated to include over 800.

These new students, plus those who have transferred from other colleges and universities, make up the increase of over 300.

Answer to a Problem

The parking meter situation is no issue if you understand it. Parking has been a problem at every school, and especially at Omaha University since the increase in enrollment.

"Not one penny of tax money will be used for these meters," said Vice President Charles Hoff. "The Board of Regents feels the taxpayers' money should be used for faculty and student use in the classroom, not for parking lots."

If students want improved parking areas, they must pay for them. The lower parking lot requires immediate care, and the only way the University can afford it is to have those who use it pay for it.

Meters will be installed in the lower lot by the end of November or as soon as the $26,000 paving job is completed. Installation in the lot just east of the Student Center should be completed by the end of October.

Only one-third of the campus parking stalls will be taxed, and only these will have concrete paving. Students who refuse to pay the parking fee may choose any one of 600 free parking places in the Fieldhouse area.

Income from the meters will be used for payment of the meters and to continue rebuilding parking areas. We will be helping Omaha U build for the future.

Formula for Success

Too often a student enters college in a "Freshman Daze." What he doesn't realize is that the success of his college career is measured by the scholastic and social record of his freshman and sophomore years.

A freshman should wisely consider departmental clubs, social clubs and activities, and above all, should understand his courses to enable him to graduate with a satisfactory scholastic record.

Dean of Students Jay B. MacGregor has already expressed admiration of the quality and variety of talents, both academic and otherwise, as shown by the Class of 1959. He and his assistant deans, Mrs. Mary Padou Young and Don Pflasterer, hope to be of the greatest possible service to make the University profitable for you.

If each student would familiarize himself with his capabilities during his freshman year and express himself during his sophomore year, he would be eligible for leadership positions as a junior. As a senior he would be more capable of continuing his leadership on an advanced scale, and training incoming students to see the advantages of Omaha University.

Typical Frosh Run-a-Round

School daze, school daze, dear old golden rule daze. And daze is just the word for over 1,000 freshmen and transfer students turned loose for the first time in the University.

Let's take a look at how the new student body fared when confronted with the normal problems of a typical college freshman.

Found everything right away and didn't have any trouble—0.004 per cent.

Couldn't find nuthin', nohow, never—99.9996 per cent.

Stood in the wrong line at least once—13 per cent.

Walked into the wrong classroom—3 per cent.

Missed a class because they couldn't find it—2 per cent.

Wished they hadn't found it—66 per cent.

Couldn't find locker—9 per cent.

Couldn't open locker after finding it—54 per cent.

Would like the experience of entering college again—0.000000 per cent.

Director Desires Men

John Miller, new director of the University Choir, said Wednesday that there are openings in the tenor, baritone and bass sections of the chorus.

Men students should contact him in Room 350 for an audition.

Miller commented that the choir started on a high peak, then added, "We're going higher."

Shack Opens Today!

The Student Center's "new look" for Fall will be revealed at the grand opening today. Free coffee will be served at today's 10:00 a. m. festivities if you present the coupon printed below.

Empathy or Apathy?

Dr. Edwin Clark was patiently explaining the meaning of the word "empathy" in his play production class. "Empathy," he said, "is the projection of one's own being into that of the character to be portrayed."

This explanation was considered a success until John Welch, possibly anticipating audience reactions, asked a timely question. "Would a play not be a success if you were not taken into this apathy?"

Apathy, according to Webster, is lack of feeling or emotion.

The interior is painted cinnamon brown and cornstalk yellow. The formica table tops carry out the general color scheme. Murals depicting college activities decorate the west wall. Reed cafe curtains and blond bent wood chairs complete the furnishings.

The lunch service section has been separated from the main area by wood and fluted glass partitions.

The kitchen has been enclosed into an independent area and may now be locked separately. This enables student organizations to have meetings in the shack without supervision.

This coupon entitles holder to one free cup of coffee. Shack's Grand Opening 10 a. m., Friday

OU's principal governing bodies are the Student Council, Panhellenic Council and Interfraternity Council.

The Student Council represents all students in their relationship to the administration. The Council is composed of two men and two women representatives of each class who are elected by the members of their respective classes. Council members supervise all school elections and school functions, including Maie Day and Homecoming.

The Panhellenic Council and IFC are the governing bodies for women's and men's Greek letter organizations, respectively.

The Board of Student Publications acts in an advisory capacity to the President, through its chairman, in relation to the student publications.

Frosh May Join Honoraries, Clubs

EDITOR'S NOTE: It is important for new students to get scholastic and social goals early in their college days. Membership in departmental clubs will better qualify a student for departmental and scholastic honoraries and will acquaint him with his professors and major field.

Freshmen who aim early for scholastic achievement may become eligible for membership in the freshman scholastic honor societies, Alpha Lambda Delta for women, or Phi Eta Sigma for men. A 3.5 grade average during the first semester or accumulative for both semesters is prerequisite to initiation into either group.

Students are recognized for scholastic excellence each spring at a special Honors Convocation and in the announcement each semester of the Dean's Honor Roll. A student whose name has appeared four times on the Dean's Honor Roll is eligible for the Corinthian Society.

Leadership Societies

Each spring, outstanding junior students are tapped at the all-school sing for the senior leadership honor societies, Wookiya for women, and Omicron Delta Kappa for men.

The Dramatics department each year names outstanding actor and actresses and new members of the Dramatics honorary, Alpha Psi Omega.

Honorary Clubs

Among honorary clubs are Alpha Kappa Delta (sociology), Gamma Pi Sigma (chemistry), Kappa Lambda Mu (Music-women), Kappa Mu Lambda (Music-men), Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia (Music-men), Pi Gamma Mu (social science), Pi Kappa Delta (Forensic), The Club (English), and Kappa Delta Pi (education).

Departmental special interest groups include the French Club, Future Teachers of America, German Club, Home Economics Club, Orchesis (dance), OUWI, Press Club, Retailing Club, Sociology Club, Spanish Club and the University Players.

Indian Football Squad Faces Morningside Here

By Donald Diglio

Omaha's seemingly invincible Indians will be out to win their sixteenth straight football game tomorrow when they play host to the Morningside Maroons.

Omaha television station KMTV will televise the OU-Morningside game, 2:15 p. m. Saturday over Channel 3. This will be the first live telecast of an Omaha University football game. Previous games were filmed and shown at a later date.

Last year the Omaha team breezed to a 45-0 victory, but they appear to be in for a rougher time Saturday afternoon. The Maroons opened their season with a decisive 39-7 win over Nebraskan Wesleyan.

Morningside's big loss is little All-American quarterback Buck Miller, but two hotshot backs, Cliff Henrick and Vern Wyland are expected to carry the load.

Last week the Indians had little trouble in disposing of Emporia State Teachers, and they were shorthanded in the backfield. Little All-American Bill

Dick Tannahill, Walt Miller and Bill Steck . . . mainstays in last Saturday's Emporia conquest.

Club Discusses OU Victory

OU's first victory of the year was discussed at the first meeting of the Quarterback Club last Monday.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell showed pictures of the 35-13 victory over Emporia State Teachers college and discussed next week's game with Morningside of Sioux City.

President Milo Bail and Senator Roman Hruska also spoke to the group.

The meetings will be every Monday to discuss the past game and also to bring players up to date on game strategy.

Indians Down Emporia, 35-13; Victory String Hits 15 Games

Rotella Gains Coaching Job

Rudy Rotella, captain of the 1954 football team and picked by his teammates as the most valuable player, has been added to the Omaha University coaching staff.

His position is that of Apprentice Coach. Rotella explained that he will help coach all sports, in addition to his job as end coach. He is the first person to hold this position on the OU campus.

Rotella said his apprenticeship will end with his graduation in June. He may then get a job as a full-time coach, already having one year's experience behind him.

Rotella took the job after being released from the San Francisco 49ers last July.

The former captain was selected as "Little All-American" player, and shared the title with Bill Englehardt and "Little All-American Coach" Lloyd Cardwell.

Patronize Our Advertisers.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell's Indians romped home in their first football game of the season last Saturday as they dumped Emporia State Teachers 35-13.

Dick Tannahill, an occasional player on last year's squad, turned in the top performance of the day with three touchdown passes and excellent ball handling. The rough all letterman front line opened huge holes for the backfield runners and held Emporia to 71 yards rushing.

Omaha completed 10 out of 23 passes for 169 yards in the air, opposed to the Teachers' 24-yard total. Senior letterman Bill Steck snared two Tannahill passes for touchdowns and displayed excellent broken field running on a punt return.

Pete Rigatuso drove over from the two-yard line in the third quarter after a 46-yard push, and in the final quarter, both teams tallied twice. Arnie Smith ran 24 yards through the defense for one tally, and reserve end Walt Miller caught a low end-zone pass from Tannahill for the final score. Smith kicked all five extra points.

Art Ridgeway scored for Emporia on a line plunge, and Eddy Uyehiro intercepted an Indian pass to run 59 yards for another touchdown.

No students will be admitted to football games on activity tickets. Game tickets must be obtained by presenting your activity ticket at the Fieldhouse ticket office between Monday and the day prior to the game. Reserve seat tickets for home games are $2.50; reserve tickets for the Municipal Stadium will be $3.50.

Engelhardt, and blocking back Ken Conrad were out with injuries. Their return to the OU line up will make things uncomfortable for the Maroons.

Dick Tannahill, subbing for Engelhardt, did a great job, tossing three touchdown passes to dependable Bill Steck. Marv Nevins and Simon A. Simon were standouts in the Indian line. The Indian defense appeared strong. Just the type to thwart the power style single-wing of the Morningside team. Game time is 2:00, on the OU field.

Off the Cuff

By Larry Means

The steady advancement in the last few years of Omaha University as a sports power should make another gain this year with the increased enrollment and heavy athletic schedules.

A brilliant inauguration of the year's activities by the Indian football squad last Saturday leaves little doubt as to the interest, both by athletes and spectators, in the events for the year to come.

The addition of two new teams on the Indian football schedule, Idaho State and Eastern Kentucky State, will provide rough-crowd-drawing competition. Last week, Idaho State downed Pepperdine of Los Angeles, 9-0 in a fast, closely played contest. Idaho was the Skyline Conference champion last year against such opponents as Colorado Mines and Colorado College. Incidentally, Colorado College was the last team to defeat the Indians with their 1953 conquest of 26-7.

Eastern Kentucky fielded another top notch team as they tied a fine Toledo University eleven, 6-6. Last year these same two teams battled to a 13-13 tie.

Omaha will face Eastern Kentucky in the Municipal Stadium October 15 under the lights. The Idaho State fracas will be the Indian homecoming game November 11 at the Fieldhouse.

A reminder to all athletes . . . All athletic folders in Virg Yelkin's office must be brought up to date. This must be done before you check out equipment, and it is requested that each folder be completed as soon as possible.
